He has recently participated, organized and curated exhibitions of mailart and artbymail in galleries, museums, libraries and unconventional spaces. Art consulting has also been carried out in the aspect of puppets as an element of artistic and dramatic expression.

"And, behold, all things have their likeness; and all things are created and made to bear record of me; both things which are temporal, and things which are spiritual; things which are in the heavens above, and things which are on the earth, and things which are in the earth, and things which are under the earth, both above and beneath, all things bear record of me."

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT

I consider that much of my artistic learning, if not the most important, comes from regular visits to museums and national and international exhibitions. It is only by observing the works closely and walking the same streets of the great masters that we can absorb the knowledge recorded there.

BRIEF DOCUMENTARY

https://youtu.be/PZIdk_maDiA

Teatro e Marionetas de Mandrágora is a professional puppet theater company directed by Clara Ribeiro and Filipa Mesquita and with Monsenhor enVide neFelibata's art direction.

The Company was founded in 2002, which marks the beginning of our professional activity. In the symbiosis of a symbolic language, which combines the heritage and traditional legacy and the contemporary thinking, not always peaceful, comes a fundamental element, the puppet. This element supports us in the search for a proper cultural identity. Our aim is to discover the aesthetic, scenic and dramatic potentialities of the puppet itself, as in relation to the actor and within this discovery, to explore the drama that characterizes us. An eager to explore culture and cultures, belief, legend, allied with the city, technological exploration, the speed of the global village.

Throughout our artistic path there have been several proposals in the audiences; adult, young, school and family; either in basic or specialized training. One of our great bets is the national and international tour of our projects. Decentralization, community work, partnership creation and social and inclusive valorization are preponderant concerns in our daily lives.

Teatro e Marionetas de Mandrágora has been in regular business for about 16 years since its formation on April 2, 2002. The Company has a core of 3 professional founding members in puppet theater (Clara Ribeiro, enVide neFelibata and Filipa Mesquita), 136 contributors from different and specific areas who intervene regularly in our activities and has hosted 15 trainees.

In constant creation, Teatro e Marionetas de Mandrágora held 49 productions, 7 collaborations, 28 theater projects in museums, 22 community theater projects and 11 creations for other entities. It also has 21 puppet workshops and 14 itinerant exhibitions.

We've created the "Ponto Pequeno - Puppet Encounter in Vila do Conde" puppet festival, which featured two editions and created and programmed the current annual "Ei! Marionetas - International Meeting of Puppets of Gondomar", which already has four successful editions.

In our tours we've performed shows in more than 600 places and participated in about 300 festivals and meetings, national and international. Our record has three thousand activities for an audience of about one million viewers.

MAILART & ARTBYMAIL PROJECTS

AMANITA BUNKER // MAILART & ARTBYMAIL EXHIBITION

Amanita Bunker exhibition returns to the streets of this small village yet in the form of art bombing. Authors are invited to create artwork regarding the requested theme and join the yearly Mushroom Festival.

We truly don't know if mushrooms are looking for a hideout, inside the local's mailboxes, from all the hungry stomachs at this festival. Maybe they are running away from the constant fires that overwhelm our Portuguese forests and their natural habitat. Or perhaps they are just growing so much that they spread all the way from the forest till the habitant's mailboxes and the village streets.

This being said... artists are invited to join in by sending artwork and all the artwork sent to the curators will end up being spread around the streets creating a vaster bombing and mushroom invasion. Artists were also invited to send a scan of that same artwork to the provided email address so that it could be archived online and printed to spread on the streets.

AQUI AQUI // MAILART & ARTBYMAIL EXHIBITION

www.aquiaqui.yzonk.com

This is the latest permanent international exhibition of MailArt and ArtByMail curated by Monsenhor enVide neFelibata. This show is renewed on the 31st of each month and has works done by children and for children.

This online platform is also a place to check past, present and further events on MailArt & ArtByMail that has or will occur at Espinho, Portugal... or at other partner cities.

At the moment the collection counts with 6 works from 4 artists from 3 different countries

ATC366++ // ARTIST TRADING CARDS EXHIBITION

The ATC's (Artist Trading Cards) are, as the name suggests, works of art created with the intention of being traded. They were used for a long time, in the artistic medium as business cards that represented the artist's capacities and were exchanged, in hand, among artists, gallerists and art dealers and others. With this small catalog of artworks, it would thus be possible for anyone interested to learn techniques from other artists, to own a small private collection of art or even to use them as real business cards at the time of commissioning works.

Although there are reports of the use of this type of card in the XVIII century, it was only in the late 90s, by the Swiss artist M. Vänçi Stirnemann, that they gain the current name by which they are known today and come to have their standardized dimensions as 64 x 89 mm (2 1/2 by 3 1/2 inches).

Some of ATC's variants are:

ACEO's (Art Cards Editions and Originals) - a version specifically designed for sale.

ATCBJ (Artist Trading Card Buddy Jam) - identical or similar ATC's, the result of collaboration among two or more artists and created in an identical quantity to those involved.

On a Double Buddy Jam, the first artist sends 2 similar ATCs to a second artist. The receiver works on top of those starters, keeps one and returns the second to the sender. A Triple Buddy Jam is rather similar, yet involves 3 artists.

On the ATCs back, the artists may sign and write the date when he received and the date of the art creation among other details.

At the moment the collection counts with 546 works from 37 artists from 16 different countries.

Printing techniques were never far apart from the art world as some might think. Woodcut, typography, silkscreen, lithograph, stencil, rubber stamps, 3D printing, digital printing, ... are a short list of various means of reproduction within our reach that are also explored for their artistic expression. Although some of these media may have arisen purely for the sake of reproduction and others with marketing intentions ... others had arise with a purely artistic vision. However, none of these techniques, sooner or later, escaped artists who use them for creating multiples or for their material expressiveness.

It is therefore with this call and with this question in mind that we invite you to question multiples in artistic creation and printing techniques as expression, either through artworks or written statements.

On our previous curated mailart and artbymail open call and exhibition entitled "Hate Mail? for ya Fat F#uck", we've dealt with similar content as we've shown Claudio Parentela's artwork in the form of digital prints of his own digital collages... in a way raising the question: if physical prints of artwork meant to prevail only among the digital world may or not be considered art? We've also laid out a consonant scheme while presenting rough quality prints from scans of Rachelline Centomo's personal international mailart open call "La Muerte / Mientras la Vida nos Dure" that had happened at Mexico the previous year.

desAMOREes is closing a series of art projects related to the AMOR (LOVE) theme by Fértil Cultural structure in collaboration with the artist Monsenhor enVide neFelibata.

The intentions on this "call" were to allow artists the opportunity to show their art in various places in Portugal, and also to spread the concepts of mailart and artbymail through various exhibitions, or through workshops that happen at the inauguration of each show. Artists were invited to participate by submitting works, to a postal address, that correspond to the topic desAMORes. The works were integrated in the exhibition, with the same name, that had a tour through diverse spaces at Portugal like Museums, Galleries, Libraries and unconventional spaces.

At the moment the collection counts with 173 works from 27 artists from 103 different countries.

HATE MAIL? FOR YA FAT F#CK // MAILART & ARTBYMAIL EXHIBITION

On previous curated mailart and artbymail open calls we've dealt with similar content... at "desAMORes" (www.desamores.yzonk.com) we've worked around the concept of unmatchable loves and at "QUEIXA-TE" (www.queixate.yzonk.com) i've asked artists to complain about whatever subject they weren't pleased with. At the present open call, entitled "Hate Mail? for ya Fat F#uck", I'm getting in touch with artists and asking them to give their support to fellow artists that continually see their artwork being censored again and again. These censored artists are exposing severe situations of our present lifetime, touching subjects considered triggers that are listed on international trigger lists, but they are indeed helping us out by means of expressing themselves through art that creates awareness about these matters. "Ignoring it won't make it go away" is the concept above all.

I'm just fed up that remarkable artwork is being censored because of its theme or, even worst, because it simply presents nudity.

It is not uncommon for us to miss flagging content that might be identified as triggering. Perhaps the trigger seems suitably mild to you and you believed it didn't need to be flagged or it simply seems silly. Or maybe you are just dealing with a snowflake.

Snowflake is a term for someone that thinks they are unique and special, but really are not. It gained popularity after the movie "Fight Club" from the quote "You are not special. You're not a beautiful and unique snowflake. You're the same decaying organic matter as everything else." Began being used extensively as a putdown for someone, usually on the political left, who is easily offended or felt they needed a "safe space" away from the harsh realities of the world, but now has morphed into a general putdown for anyone that complains about any subject.

Nowadays there are so many people being triggered by somewhat reason that it became to common to have artists creations being reported and consequently censored on networks such as Instagram and Facebook. It seems that we regressed to past times when clothes had been ordered to be painted and sculpted over artwork, but now through the use of pixels and black bars. I do hope that through this open call, we do start to freely start to talk about this subjects/problems and stop being prude.

I'm not promoting illegal actions nor soliciting illegal content but ignoring it won't make it go away.

It was already proved that talking about these subjects do trigger some folks since this open call was target of censorship by fellow artists.

So, to confront this matter, all submitted artwork should deal with the offensiveness of itself, or nor, in some sort of way or approach/discuss/deal with these issues. Work with the common trigger warnings and freely express yourself through art.

Only similar content, to the following list, will be considered valid and used on the exhibitions: abuse (physical, mental, emotional, verbal, sexual); animal cruelty or animal death; blood; child abuse / pedophilia / incest; classism; death or dying; depiction of pornography (including child pornography); eating disorders, body hatred, and fat phobia; excessive or gratuitous violence; homophobia and heterosexism; incest (including any and all elements of romantic or sexual relationships between family, tonal in theme, thought, or activity); islamophobia; kidnapping and abduction (forceful deprivation of / disregard for personal autonomy); mental illness and ableism; miscarriages / abortion; needles; pornographic content; pregnancy / childbirth; racism and racial slurs; rape and sexual assault; self-harm, and self-injurious behavior (self-harm, eating disorders, etc.); sexism and misogyny; sexual assault; suicide; transphobia and trans misogyny; violence; ...

PocketART is a project that travelled on my mind for at least two years before seeing the daylight. I'd bought the material and prepared a few demos, but never had the will to go forward with it.

It's nothing new, but basically an association of ideas from other artists. Rather than destroying old artwork or small sketches that lay around everywhere at my place, why not give them away? And now this project is running since december of 2012.

As Kathleen Harrington wrote, ATCs (Artist Trading Cards) and ACEOs (Art Cards Editions and Originals) are widely spread and have being used from a long time. Migvel Tepes, a fellow artist, cut into small squares the protective paper he used on top of his drawing board and used them as personal cards; my master Daniel Hompesch cut into several pieces the metal etching he used for the prints and mailed it to their buyers; and so many other creative artists made similar things.

Althought these pocket art objects cannot be truly branded as ATCs or ACEOs, mainly because of its size, it's also true that they work pretty well as such. Real ones measure 2.5x3.5" (6.35x8.89cm) and mine are smaller, around 4.9x8.1cm cards laminated to an itsy bitsy bigger.

I cut my old artwork into several pieces, laminate them, add my personal contacts on the back as well as a qr-code that aims to the full work at this website. The lamination process acts as varnishing topping embellishing the coulors. Only the one person given access to that qr-code may see the full work (unless he shares the link of course, ... and be free to do so).

Til today I've cut 25 artwork(s) into a total of 176 PocketART pieces.

Esta é uma exposição coletiva internacional de Arte Postal (MailArt) e de Arte por Correio (ArtByMail). Uma atividade paralela ao espetáculo de marionetas homónimo pela companhia Teatro e Marionetas de Mandrágora.

Este evento pretende incentivar jovens artistas a participar num movimento internacional apresentando como contrapartida regalias aos participantes. Esta chamada à Arte Postal permite aos artistas a oportunidade de mostrar a sua arte em diversos locais de Portugal, e ainda divulgar os conceitos de mailart e artbymail através das várias exposições que acontecem aquando a apresentação do espetáculo.

Os artistas são convidados a participar enviando obras, por correio tradicional, que correspondam ao tema e título proposto "QUEIXA_TE - D. Quixote e Sancho Pança".

SCRIPTUM // ARTIST'S BOOKS, VISUAL POETRY, ASSEMIC WRITING AND RESPECTIVE DERIVATIVES

www.scriptum.yzonk.com

Artist Books are artistic objects that use the book format or the concept of the book itself at its core.

At this international collective exhibition, we do present several works of this genre, which proliferated in the very contemporary XX century, together with its congeners Visual Poetry, Asemic Writing among some other derivatives. Here, we do exalt the graphic conceptual representation of the "word" and the "word" abstraction. With this show you'll relearn what you've considered the book object to be and your present notion of the written word.

This is an on-tour exhibition curated by the artist Monsenhor enVide neFelibata that held artwork by several handpicked national and international artists in a total of 56 artworks by 22 artists from 9 different countries. The artwork is shown at exhibitions that will tour through Portuguese Museums, Galleries, Libraries and some unconventional places. At each exhibition, a workshop will be presented by Monsenhor enVide neFelibata or a local selected artist. During this workshop we'll present some of the technics that have been used by artists for a long time as well as explore uncommon materials.

At the moment the collection counts with 65 works from 24 artists from 9 different countries.

INTERVIEWS

KATJA AARFLOT 2016

This year's guest exhibitor in Kittelsenhuset is called enVide neFelibata. He is a 34-year-old puppet maker and a contemporary artist resident in Portugal. We've met him on regular weekday during the midst of a premiere and the exhibition preparative work at his studio at Porto.

His puppet theater company Teatro e Marionetas de Marionetas is located at an old canned sardine plant in the neighboring town of Espinho. The building is of a beautiful red wall town hall, combines a museum and the puppet theater studio. It strikes us – do the other artists have possibly some little better marks in Portugal than "at home" as Kittelsen so inexhaustible just described it?

The coffee is enjoyed with milk down the river in a springy ice wind, surrounded by the press museum's historic printing machines and Porto's rich maritime history.

– It was once one begins and breaks into laughter. – No, it was not like that!

I have tried with an introductory phrase that perhaps he, as a puppet maker, may feel related to the Kittelsen, because they both blow life into the dead – as Kittelsen in his own imagination's figures; the trolls and the creatures of fairy tales and stories, where enVide must be greatest by breathing life into dead material by making puppets that can chat, walk, breathe and live – but no! So wrong was I.

MVF [Monsenor enVide neFelibata]

So, I have not thought so. I feel akin to Kittelsen as an artist through pen and paper, having the urge to create, yes. But the inspiration from Kittelsen, well ... I did not really get in touch with his art. I relate him by meeting the places. Being in Kittelsenhuset, in Lauvlia and Jomfruland and sniffing into the air he breathed in – that was the inspiration for me. I inspire the same things as him – nature, sea, light and sound – and then create my own art. That's how inspiration works for me. I rarely go to the big museums or other artists artwork to create my art. The atmosphere around is more than enough.

KA [Katja Aarflot]

But the folklore that you share, as you and as a puppet theater company. Do you often make performances for museums based on the intangible cultural history?

MVF

It is true that we cooperate closely with the Portuguese museums. With puppetry we have a good object for instruction and folklore dissemination to children. By owning a relationship with a puppet, with a personality, they learn history in an easier fashion. We also create our own performances that deal with our history and legacy. We work a lot for libraries and museums. But I do not feel that I give life to dead things. (laughs) It's the puppeteers that do so. As a puppet maker, I create a moving sculpture. It is my challenge to give it a past and a present and the opportunity to express themselves. Then it's the puppeteers who give it a life and will give it a future.

KA

How do you draw the line between your own free art and puppetry work?

MVF

MONSEHOR ENVIDE NEFELIBATA

WWW.ENVIDENEFELIBATA.COM

In my own art, I like to create my own stories. Regarding puppetry, I often start pen and paper at my home studio, drawing and doodling. Something remains in the sketchbook, something takes shape, and something takes direction into things I'm working on personally. As I say, I start by myself and let it grow into work after all. That's why I'm never really free, I'm constantly working and loving what I'm holding on. (emphasizes enVide) I'm still on my way in my own material.

KA

What with "Mail art"?

MVF

I started by sending my own works to friends and then to museums without getting answers. A few years after I've discovered there was such a thing as mailart and found a network of mail artists, got in touch with some people there and started trading with them. I eventually found out that they don't thrive in "MailArt" but with "ArtByMail" instead. I do use the postal service to send art and that is the stuff I call "ArtByMail", but sometimes the shipment process becomes a piece of the art in itself and that is "MailArt". – explains enVide. He has just curated and arranged the exhibition "desAmores", a touring exhibition with MailArt and ArtByMail from all over the world.

KA

What is the dream project?

MVF

I do not work with "dream projects". I work on deadline and concrete projects all the time. If there is nothing in my book for a while, I do set a new deadline. I'll make an appointment with a new gallery forcing myself to create within a deadline. That's me, I still have to challenge myself with those agendas, exhibitions and projects. My own work is quick. I work with low budget and cheap materials. Arte povera.

The dream is to be an inspiration to others, not to become an icon myself.

SARA COSTA 2017

SC [Sara Costa]

First of all, why the distinction between MailArt and ArtByMail?

MVF [Monsenhor enVide neFelibata]

Analyzing several artists career, I'm able to generalize that most creatives starts unconsciously in this area. The one gender I call artbymail arises spontaneously by the need to send works to friends, artists or galleries, either as an offer or a form of self-promotion. Artbymail uses postal services only as a means of artwork transportation and does not rely on these services for its creation.

In mailart, the case is rather different. In my opinion, mailart succeeds to artbymail when the awareness of such vehicle is born and the necessity for it. Apparent simple actions, as the stamp location and the postal address are now part of the artistic creation. But above all, it is quite important, in its most purist form, to integrate the vehicle, for example the postman, into this joint art co-creation. The entire process and journey, from the sender to the recipient might be seen as a long performance that culminates with the receiver and the act of receiving it and so on.

SC

The idea of mailart goes through the democratization of artistic creation and dissemination, putting these gestures within the reach of all. Has it grown, this awareness that it is possible to create with little means and without a consecrated "name"?

MVF

I say in jest that to create mailart/artbymail it is enough to buy the stamps. But it is important to remember that if we withdraw the "MAIL" transport vehicle from mailart, we should still have "ART", but unfortunately this component is scarce in so many people's creations. I can't tell if there has been a growing awareness that it is possible to create with few means, since in reality this is the daily life of consecrated artists or not ... but I do can say that the idea that anyone can be an artist is being incorrectly sold because you just can't get there effortlessly and without regular exercise.

SC

When art moves from freer circulation into galleries and collections, it becomes more inaccessible under various aspects. Is there a risk of this happening with mailart?

MVF

I may be misunderstanding the question but considering that mailart comes from a freer circulation is incorrect. In its purest form it is a very personal and private way of communication between sender, recipient and transport vehicle and therefore this art form is tremendously inaccessible to the rest of the public. Transposing these works into galleries corrupts mailart concept, in a certain way, as well as its nature, and I do speak against myself. These shows, organized by me, are however essentially pedagogical and are intended to elucidate the public about this art form.

SC

What is expected from the local audience?

MONSEHOR ENVIDE NEFELIBATA
ART DESECRATOR & PROVOCATEUR
WWW.ENVIDENEFELIBATA.COM

MVF

I sincerely expect very little from local audience or even the general public. Living with low expectations is the ideal solution in order to be surprised by the positive. I just hope they come up and wonder about mailart and artbymail concepts. If this question does happen to arise, it's already half a step to come to understand it, because you will certainly receive an answer. And then yes ... they may ask themselves some more while they carry out their artwork creation that may someday be part of future exhibitions.

CURIOSITIES

Monsenhor enVide neFelibata is a collector of coasters, erasers, carpenter's tapes, typewriters, and all variety of small articles of art expression prior to the 1990s. He is an avid purchaser of books since he, very early, created an extensive personal library in its various themes.

Active mailartist before even knowing of the existence of a word to define this artistic genre, he foments, since he remembers, the art exchange between professionals and aspirants. He also organizes itinerant collective exhibitions allowing national and international artists to show their works inside Portugal.

He also promotes free software and supports the open source community by translating software into its native language.
